Project Genesis

The State of Gujarat, having population of more than 50 million, is one of the highly urbanised States of India. Urbanisation in Gujarat is a whopping 37.8%, as compared to all India average of 27.8%. The growth in urbanisation was as high as 33% in the decade 1991 – 2001. The rate of urbanisation in Gujarat is likely to increase up to 50% in the next 15 years.

In order to cater to the needs of increased urbanisation rate and to sustain the growth, it is indispensable for the Urban Local Bodies to look after the development of the urban land.

One of the most practical approaches towards urban development in the State of Gujarat was the implementation of Town Planning Schemes. The Government of Gujarat enacted the law – Gujarat Town Planning and Urban Development Act, 1976 to enable the development of the cities of the State.

Town Planning Scheme enabled the urban local bodies / urban development authorities to develop the commonly pooled land, which would have provisions for social and common infrastructure, services / utilities, etc.

Town Planning Schemes also allow creation of land bank for authorities, which could be a source for revenue generation, to be used for the development of infrastructure and to meet the administrative expenses. The land is reserved in such schemes with a pre – defined purpose of development.

Most of the Urban Local Bodies and Urban Development Authorities of the State have such land banks, which are spread out through their regions. These land banks have substantial development potential for the intended purpose.

It has been observed that land banks of most the Urban Local Bodies and Urban Development Authorities are not fully developed / utilized. The details of such land banks are given in the subsequent section. It is being considered by the Government / Governing Authority to put these lands for its intended purpose by way of sale. This would help in release of locked land for the development and at the same time would be a source of revenue generation for ULB / UDA.

With the objective of releasing locked land for development for its intended purpose, Gujarat Urban Development Company Limited (GUDC) has conceptualised a project – “Land Bank in Gujarat”. The project intends to put to use the land reserved in the cities of Ahmedabad, Rajkot, Surat, Vadodara and Jamnagar. Proposals are invited from the private sector for the development of these land banks for its intended purpose.

Objectives

The primary objectives of the project Land Bank in Gujarat is:

- To unlock the hidden value of the land, that has been unutilized for its intended purpose.

- To develop the land for its intended purpose.
- To bolster the development of the area.
